GRAHAM ENGINEERING APPOINTS JIMENA HOMRIGHAUS AS SOUTHEAST REGIONAL SALES MANAGER

Graham Engineering Corporation has appointed Jimena Homrighaus to be regional sales manager in the southeastern United States.

“Jem’s experience in the industry, along with her tenacity and customer focus, make her a great addition to the Graham team,” said David C. Schroeder, president and CEO.

Ms. Homrighaus’s experience includes sales and account management in the plastics extrusion industry, with a focus in wire and cable, medical, automotive, and fiber-optics.

She joins Graham Engineering from Howar Equipment Company, where she was North American Product Manager. A native of San Antonio, Texas, she completed her degree in Mexico at C.B.T.I.S. #12 Technical College.
